

Fungal Disease on Beans:

There's a fungal disease called Anthracnose that affects beans, causing brown spotting leaves, stems, and on the bean pods themselves. There's a picture below with an example of what the affected beans look like and if your beans look like this then DO NOT SAVE BEAN SEEDS because the seeds will carry the disease when you plant them the following season.

